English teacher - PART TIME JOB

Despre mine

Currently my main occupation is a QA Engineer in the IT area, but I have always had my passion for teaching English language. Even though I haven't been teaching recently, I can surely say that my current occupation helped to improve my colloquial English, as currently I am using it in my job on an everyday basis and I believe I can share my experience with students. Having completed my Masters degree in translation as my main education and Psychology as the second education, I know how to find a special approach to different students. That is why my teaching experience includes working with kids and adults and holding different lessons including group and individual ones.
